Whirl Pool Baths

If the jets in the Whirl pool baths which are fitted in some of our accommodation are continually covered for significant lengths of time they become hot.

This makes the baths unsuitable for guests with a sensory impairment who would fail to detect the gradual warming only for very short periods of use.

For guests with lower limb mobility restrictions (or particularly for those with lower limb mobility restrictions accompanied by sensory impairment) extreme care must be exercised in using the aeration function on the baths.
